‘People at Risk’. We are aware that this is an all-purpose term for many groups in society who suffer from (social) exclusion for different reasons. Individuals in these groups obviously require different approaches. We believe that a narrative approach can deliver helpful methods and tools.

Our STORYTELLER guidelines and the course curriculum ‘Working With Stories’ attempt to train (future) trainers to educate those who wish to help those at risk with their stories and find resilience, pride and an active attitude.